Basketball Teams

Are Very Active

ST. ALBERT—St. Albert basketball teams motored to Westlock last Thursday to return their visit.

With the help the team have had from the Westlock players and coaches, St. Albert teams have improved their playing so much that they gave Westlock a good battle.

The Junior girls won both their games against Westlock. Players were: Lourdes Roberts, Irene Lacombe, Annie Liszewski, Joan Cheviens, Mariette and Doris Brodeur, Shirley Maheux, Jeannette Belhumeur, Anna Scholz, Germaine Terault, Yvonne Lefebvre, Carl Holmberg.

The St. girls lost 6-11. The members were: Harriet Black, Mary Hesse, Frankie Cassidy, Jeanne Goss, Marie Ambush, Mary Kennedy, Ann Ross, Annie Zehn, Claudette Flynn, Virgie Belhumeur, Beatrice Terault.

The St. boys have improved their game to a science—getting away from rudies as they still play—they lost their game to a very good team, 16-22.

If present plans work out the St. boys may have two games with teams in the city.

The St. boys are: Gerald Vague, Andre Rouault, Robert Raymond and Roger Sevigny, Pat McNeeld, Gary Larocque, Doug Mac Rockwell, Donald Terault, Raymond Pinc.

Miss S. Aural Is Spring Bride

ST. ALBERT—On April 15, Miss Solange Aural, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Aural was united in marriage to Mr. Rene Desvarats, formerly of Switzerland. The ceremony took place in the forenoon at the St. Albert Catholic Church. Rev. Fr. Tardiff officiated.

The bride wore a floor-length gown, fashioned with a lace bodice and a flowing skirt of net. Her short veil matched the gown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and jacinths.

Her two sisters, Marcelle and Liliane, were the bridesmaids and were attired in gowns of green and pink respectively. They carried pink carnations.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Gaston Aural and Mr. Abel Lefebvre.

The marriage ceremony was made more beautiful by the music and singing, arranged by Sister St. Joseph and the Ladies of the Altar.

The wedding luncheon, reception and dance were held at the Club Micoombe.

The happy couple will reside in St. Albert.

Lions Honor L. Hall At Banquet, Dance

ST. ALBERT—On the evening of April 25 Lions Bud Leclerc, G. Mahend, Ed Savard, Wm. Flynn and their Lionesses represented the St. Albert Lions Club at a banquet and dance honoring District Governor Lion Lynn Hall.

Lynn Hall spoke on the importance of Lionism to the community and also introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Wm. J. Hagen, District Governor of Billings, Montana.

The humor and greeting from the south was one of the highlights of the evening.

562 million ice cream cones were made in Canada last year.

STARRY SCOUT HOCKEY CLUB

Visiting Speakers Tell Lions Of Education And RCAF Survival Training

MORINVILLE—H. E. Balfour, Director of School Administration for the Department of Education gave the Lions Club here an interesting report on the work of his department in the field of education at the Tuesday night meeting held in Alberta Hotel.

Introduced by Ernest Meaden, Secretary of the Sturgeon School Division and a member of the Morinville Lions Club, Mr. Balfour explained how the Department of Education is split up into various branches. A lieutenant-colonel of the last war, Mr. Balfour compared this system with the Army set-up and said that his department, School Administration, was one of six major divisions.

He then explained how this division is broken down into six sections comprising Organization, Local Finance, Capital Finance, Capital Assistance, Buildings Branch and Administrative Accounting.

Lion Gerald St. Germain expressed thanks and appreciation on behalf of the club to Mr. Balfour for his interesting and informative address.

Flight-Lieut. David Puse of Hamilton, Ont. was introduced as a visitor by Lion Bill Puse. Dave had just come off a 10-day training stint in the RCAF's Survival Training program. He explained how the Canadian people have $100,000 invested in every trained flyer and it is important for them to know how to know how to survive in a wilderness area if forced down where rescue may not be possible for several days or weeks. His group has just returned from camping northeast of Jasper, Alta., many miles from the railway and highway.

Business discussed at the meeting included the following:

Letter from District Governor Lynn Hall of Lac la Poudre regarding forthcoming Edmonton convention and the annual charter night dinner at Lac la Poudre. Bon Accord Lions Club invites Morinville Lions to attend first anniversary of their charter night at 6:30 p.m., May 6, in the Community Centre Hall at Bon Accord.

A similar letter from the Andrew Lions Club was read.

Following is a list of nominations suggested for election night May 11th: president, Herb Saunders, 1st vice-pres., Gerry St.

Credit for coaching the boys goes to, Howard McEwan, who is employed

Not Taking Advantage Of Housing Act Offers

TORONTO—Communities and builders should take more advantage of provisions of the National Housing Act which encourage home building, Mines Minister Prudham said here.

He outlined some of the act's provisions in a speech to the National House Builders' Association. Mr. Prudham, an Edmonton business man, is a former president of the association.

Not enough advantage was being taken of section 35 of the NHA, Mr. Prudham said. This section provides for the service of land with the federal government paying 75 per cent of the cost and the other 25 per cent being provided by the province or the province and municipality. "If your province is short of served land," he told the builders, "I believe that through your local associations you should endeavor to see that your municipal governments are fully aware of these provisions and urge them to take the initiative by availing themselves of this provision."

Too much of the builder's time was wasted in seeking and promoting development of land. This was the responsibility of local governments.

"All too often," municipalities did not plan far enough ahead. They planned for the current season only and by the time their plans were in operation half the building season was lost.

More builders should also take advantage of another provision of the act which provided insurance against loss of rental revenue for a small premium. This had provided much rental housing in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg but was less used in other parts of Canada.

Improvements To Be Made On Hall

CARBONDALE — A tea was held at the home of Mrs. Rene Gabhey, Wednesday afternoon, April 22. Proceeds are to go towards improvements of the former Carbondale School which, at long last, they have possession of to use as a community hall. The Carbondale ladies all joined in making the affair a huge success. A beautifully decorated cake was raffled. Daffodils decorated the rooms and table from which Mrs. Rosa Samis and Mrs. W. Dickinson poured tea. Mrs. Kirkpatrick won the pretty green and yellow cake. Mrs. Susan Bell, mother of Mrs. R. Gabhey, was among those enjoying tea.

New Bus Route Mooted

TOMAHAWK — Representatives of the Tomahawk Bus Company were in Furtonville last week over the possibility of a new bus route through here to Edmonton. If sufficient interest is shown, they expect to make three round-trips weekly, on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, weather permitting.

In the busy season the bus will provide a valuable express service, as orders for parts or repairs placed on the bus in the morning will be returned the same evening from Stony Plain or Edmonton.

A poster will be placed in the Post Office in Tomahawk giving the full details, within a few days.

Now is a good time to have that storage tank full of Imperial Tractor Fuels. Then you'll be able to go full steam ahead when you start to get busy.

If you don't have a storage tank... see someone who has. He'll tell you it's a fast, safe and convenient way of storing and handling gasoline. Where does the money go?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

Each year we at Imperial add up the company's bills to see what happened to the money we received in the previous 12 months for the gasoline, fuel oil and other products we sell. Here's where each dollar of Imperial's 1952 income went:

CRUDE OIL and other raw materials we bought, plus freight, took more than half of each dollar.

OPERATING expenses took more than 28 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 10 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 24 to 36 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 4.06 cents.

TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future 3.42 cents was put back into the business.

Picayune Debate

The Opposition in Parliament is getting rather hard-pressed to find something interesting to talk about when they waste hours of the time of Parliament discussing the transfer of a Canadian National Hotel Manager from Winnipeg to Brandon. They have also carried this matter into the Railway Committee, and gave an amusing but not very edifying exhibition recently.

Donald Gordon, President of the Canadian National Railways, was called before the Committee and questioned as to why the transfer was made. J. M. Macdonald, PC Member for Toronto-Greenwood, and E. D. Fulton, PC Member for Kamloops, gave a cordial exhibition of what they consider their duties as members of Parliament. Their questioning of Donald Gordon was impertinent and insulting, and although Mr. Gordon could hardly be blamed for being annoyed, there was no reason for him to lose his temper and act like a spoiled child.

Parliament will have to sit for twelve months and then not be able to do the business of the country if they are to be held up by the Opposition for days listening to complaints so picayune to the country's economy as the transfer of a hotel employee.

Busy Bees

How many bee-hours of labor go into the production of one pound of honey?

Bee experts have been trying to find the answer to this question for almost half a century and all of them come up with a different answer. One father and son team, after 40 years of observing bees under varying conditions, credit each working field bee with an average day of eight hours gathering honey at the rate of 20 flowers per minute and 20 minutes an average trip.

Another authority, reports C-L-I. Agricultural News, rates bee activity slightly lower. He states that a bee often visits 10 to 20 flowers per minute and makes only 10 trips a day. If it were possible for a single bee to gather all the nectar for one pound of honey at this rate, it would have to work 365 days a year for more than eight years.

Bees have been observed gathering honey at all hours. Some have been seen leaving clover fields at 9:22 p.m. Others worked basswood from 4 to 5 a.m.—just before sunrise. From other similar observations it was concluded that a bee's working hours were determined by the time of day flowers surrounding the hive yielded the most nectar. Some yield most of the day while others, such as buckwheat, only part of the day. Some blossoms close early in the afternoon and do not open until late in the morning.

Sugar content of nectar varies in different kinds of flowers or in flowers of the same species from season to season or even in the same flower from day to day.

The distance of the source of nectar from the hive is another important factor in honey production. Bees will fly eight miles if they cannot find nectar nearer home. But because of lost time and reduced load, this is not profitable and bees prefer to work a source of nectar with a low sugar content near the hive before they will fly to flowers with a sweet nectar much farther away.

Men Of Valor

He was a hunch-backed, dwarfish man, with a frail body, but he possessed one of the profoundest mathematical minds of all time. Arriving in steerage from Germany, Charles P. Steinmetz came to be known as "the wizard of Schenectady." He was a genius in electrical theory and research at the General Electric Company. When Harvard bestowed an honorary degree upon him, it was said, "He is the foremost electrical engineer of the world."

Notes and Comment

Farm deliveries in the prairie provinces from August 1 1952, to January 26 totalled 433.5 million bushels, 279.9 million bushels of which was wheat and 153.6 million coarse grains. During the same period last year marketing totalled 367.6 million, with wheat accounting for 249.1 million and coarse grains 118.5 million bushels.

Teaching, A Job Or A Career?

By W. E. FINBOW, Department of Education

Everyone likes to feel that he is needed. Everyone likes to feel that his job is worth-while. The difference between putting in time and filling a need is the difference between a job and a career. The need for teachers today is very great; and the rewards of teaching—if you are the right sort of person—are very near and warm and real.

Teaching is a big job. Not everyone can measure up to it. You need to be healthy, both physically and mentally. You should be at least a little brighter than average. You need self-control and lots of it. You should have a wide-awake interest in what is going on in the world. You should be enthusiastic, and be able to rouse enthusiasm in others. You need to be able to stick with a problem. Above all, you must have integrity, your students must know that your thinking is honest, and your decisions fair. If you feel that you possess most of these qualities, there is a good future, a very good future, waiting for you in the teaching profession.

Teaching, like every other worth-while profession, involves a certain amount of grief. You must be able to adjust your behaviour to the needs of a group of young people, no two of whom are alike in any mental or emotional characteristic. And you will have to adjust yourself to the very special needs of those unhappily adjusted children who are to be found, a few, in every classroom. The problems that a teacher must solve, then, are delicate, difficult and highly complex problems. And sometimes, especially for the beginning teacher, the physical environment in which these delicate problems must be solved can be anything but an encouraging one.

Teaching is difficult work, but its compensations are unique. We have to think of money, of course. There was a time when teachers were poorly paid; nowadays you will receive a competent income, an income more secure and certain than that of any other profession. If you wish to engage in further study and better your qualifications, or enter some field of specialization, and for teachers there is every opportunity to do so—your income will increase accordingly. In education, the field is wide open to talent.

More important is the personal satisfaction that accrues to those who work constantly with children. To watch them grow in competence and alertness and sensitivity, from day to day, and year to year, to see them enter every walk of life and "make good" and know that you have had a hand in the process—this is a very special kind of reward, and one that is offered by no other occupation besides teaching. Such a reward spells success in the very best meaning of the word.

Alberta needs teachers. We need workers especially in that area of teaching which requires the highest degree of competence—the elementary school. When you think about a career, think very earnestly about teaching. It may be your finest opportunity.

Go East, Young Salmon!

(From Toronto Saturday Night)

An experiment with wide biological as well as economic interest is currently being conducted in Alberta—Sockeye salmon, those peculiar fish with the stubborn spawning habits, were introduced into the St. Mary Reservoir in the southern part of the Province last July. Some 80,000 sockeye salmon fingerlings were hatched in the Provincial Government Fish Hatchery of the Department of Lands and Forestry at Calgary. They were then piped into the Reservoir from metal tanks in which they made the journey from the Hatchery.

The biologically interesting fact is that the sockeye salmon of the Pacific Ocean lives most of its life in salt water and enters fresh water only to spawn and die. The Fisheries Branch feels, however, that the fish can and will adapt itself to an exclusively fresh water existence.

The fingerlings have grown from eggs received from the Montana State Fisheries Branch. They were developed to the fingerling stage and then planted in the Reservoir instead of being allowed to mature at a rearing station, the apparent custom of men who know the ways of fish.

If the salmon experiment works, more fingerlings will be planted in other Alberta lakes. This winter 10,000 of them will be studied at the Calgary Hatchery. The sockeye salmon—whose reputation is a game fish well established—may be one more in Alberta's long list of tourist attractions.

Voice of the People

JOHN BARLECUORN'S BUDGET ONE MAN'S OPINION

A good many people go to jail. First I wish to congratulate you, half or more of them for their offences on the wonderful paper which is issued weekly. I want to express my opinion on the awards given to Master Farmers. I would say it is very good to have this. But what gets me is that these people are normal until they get the award. Once they get this award they feel that there is no one like them and that everybody is just SCRUFF. I wouldn't say this applies to all Master Farmers. In closing I would give this advice to these Master Farmers: You were just like one of us at one time, so in your good fortune, don't forget the less fortunate.

STRICTLY HONEST.

This shows a net profit on hand of $1.00, a really handsome sum. Perhaps by judicious advertising next year, increased liquor sales would reach this net profit and in a few years it might be used as a revolving self-liquidating fund to be used to start financing a few hotels. (That self-liquidating is really good. Hurrah for John.)

CHARACTER ANALYSIS

Judging just by his pictures, Russia's new boss, Georgi Malenkov, is not the Cossack type. His eyes are those of a hunter and marksman. The mouth shows he is a 40-a-day cigarette smoker. I predict in him a man who will start great revolutions and wars by air, without warning.

The throwers came to our place on short notice, and caught me unprepared. It was during the time when meat prices were the highest—and, as per usual, my supply was low.

I remembered I had some canned sausage, and my two pre-school-age grandsons saw me heating the sausage, and asked if they could have some, as they were very fond of it. I replied they would have to wait till the meat ate and if any was left they could have some.

During the meal the older of the two pipes up with "Don't you guys eat too much sausage. Granny said we could have some, if there was any left." I'll never know if any of the men heard him. However, no one said anything, and kept on devouring all that was before them. We laugh over it now! Junior got some sausage.

LETTER TO LOUISA

16-Year-Old Girl Finds New Love Interest When "Steady Joe" Is Away

DEAR LOUISA — I am a girl of sixteen years old. I have been going steady with a very nice young man for two years.

He is well liked and respected by everyone. Joe went away for the winter and I only saw him every month or so. I have been going to school and live in town. I am considered a pretty girl with a swell personality. Because I love dancing and am a popular dancer. I didn't stop going to dances just because Joe wasn't here. I got going with a gang my older brother went with. One of the boys started to pay my way into the dances and ask me to eat supper and go home with him. He is also a very nice fellow. He is employed in the town I live in. He isn't very well acquainted with Joe. I have more or less been going with him for three months. I know he thinks a lot of me. While I've been going with him he has never asked about Joe and I have never told him that I'm supposed to be going steady with Joe. Joe has come home again to stay, so I have tried to settle down again. He recently was told about me going with this other fellow and asked me about it. I told him I was going to continue going with the other fellow he would have to stop coming to see me. He said he feels as if he could never go with another girl. I think a lot of Joe and also like the other fellow very much. When I go with the other fellow I have more fun than when I go with Joe. I know for a fact people will respect me more if I go with Joe. Could you give me your advice on whether I should tell Joe I don't want to go steady or stick to him? I know it would please my mother if I continued to go with Joe. He doesn't know about this matter. J.F.

Answer: Your problem, my dear girl, is as old as the hills. Like millions of girls your own age and before you, you have made the mistake of centering all your attentions on one boy friend. You have mistaken the fancy of youth for the real heart-love of a mature adult and as soon as your boy friend of two years' standing goes away for a while you have found others who are just as attractive to you, and attracted to you as steady Joe. You were much too young at 14 to start going steady and now at 16 you are still too young to have your dates and attention monopolized by one boy. The world is big and you have still got several years of gay, care-free life ahead of you. Don't make the tragic mistake of getting tied down to one man now and find within a few years that the man who at 14 you thought was your one big romance in life, will be, a few years later replaced in your affections by another.

Enjoy your young life, J.F., while you can and when you are matured in your thinking you will find the right man.

P.S. Listen carefully to your mother's advice as to the boys with whom you keep company, but remember that the choice of a husband will have to be yours and not your mother's.

University Of Alberta To Receive Dr. Orr's Library

EDMONTON—University of Alberta officials revealed recently that the somewhat extensive medical library of the late Dr. Harold Orr of Edmonton had been willed to the University. Dr. Orr had been president of the Canadian Medical Association when he died in December at the age of 62.

The library contains several medical journals complete from 1859 to 1952. The interest shown by Dr. Orr in the University's medical library was always keen and he contributed many journals to it during his lifetime.

Top Notch Performance Seen

The second match was between welterweights Jerry Fraser of Ponoka and Kenny Anderson and was refereed by Barney O'Connor. Although Anderson put up a good fight he was no match for fast, hard-hitting, Fraser. Anderson went down for a count of eight in the third round and did not come out for the fourth.

In the last of the triple mat event, Morinville's own Charl Schafers renewed acquaintance with welterweight Teddy Herrington, who moved with lightning speed. Charlie was knocked down shortly after the first round started, came up on one knee at the count of three but took the count of eight. Seconds later, Herrington clipped Charlie on the forehead and when a bad back resulted. Referee O'Connor stopped the fight thereby awarding the fight to Herrington by a TKO at 2:45 of the first round.

Fight fans were indeed provided with many thrills and lots of action, particularly when Alexander fought his opponent and the ring onto the laps of ring side patrons three times in succession.

The program opened with Sam Logan singing to Caterina accompanied by Henry Houle on the guitar. Then, Mayor Soetaert addressed the audience lauding the promotion of sports in Morinville and thanking co-sponsors George Bongie and Jack Berry for having made this boxing match possible.

Announcer for this boxing card was Jim Brooks, Edmonton Journal boxing writer.

The draw was made for the boxing gloves being raffled by the Morinville Curling Association, and Clarence "Porky" Krauskopf was the lucky winner.
